Know the Facts

Lupus is an inflammatory, multisystem, autoimmune disease of unknown cause that may impact virtually any organ system in the body.

Lupus can be mild, life-threatening or anything in between.

Initial symptoms for lupus may be non-specific: fatigue, achiness, stiffness, low grade fevers, swollen lymph nodes or rashes.

At present, there is no cure for lupus. However, lupus can be effectively treated. Most people with the disease can lead active, healthy lives.
